Later reports confirmed the accuracy of the Kentuckyian's telegraph service and the associated press papers are announcing this morning news we announced yesterday morning.

The City Commissioners have appointed William Oglesby Soyars City or Prosecuting Attorney to succeed Joseph C. Slaughter who resigned to enter the army. Last year he entered the officers' training camp at Fort Benjamin Harrison but was almost immediately prostrated with an acute attack of appendicitis and an operation was performed. For weeks his life hung by a thread, but he finally recovered. Last week he again volunteered but failed to pass the physical examination on account of his recent operation. Mr. Soyars has been practicing law about three years and is making a distinct success. He is a gifted speaker, a close student and a hard worker in his profession. LIBERTY LOAN TRAIN OF
SPEAKERS ARRIVES TODAY
TABERNACLE TONIGHT

Two Great Meetings to Be Held at Tabernacle This Afternoon and Evening.

DISTINGUISHED OFFICER

Arrives Here On An Early Train and Will Join the Party Here.

The special publicity train of the Kentucky Liberty Loan Committee, with a number of speakers aboard, which left Louisville Tuesday morning for a tour of Central and Western Kentucky with a view to arousing interest in the intensive campaign which will be waged later, will arrive in Hopkinsville this morning at 11:45 o'clock over the L. & N. and remain here until 2 a. m. tomorrow.

In addition to these visitors this city will be especially honored by a visit from Maj. Eckenfelder, a French officer with a non-French name, who is the most distinguished French soldier now in America. He is fresh from trench warfare and will speak at both the afternoon and night meetings, as will the various other speakers who will come on the special train.

Among these will be Trooper A. H. O'Connor, a Brooklyn man who enlisted with the English army and was in the first contingent of British troops participating in the fighting at the Marne. He served for two years, finally being so severely wounded he was in a hospital for seven months. Private H. M. Garrow, a Canadian, who has gone through the mill of the fighting front in France, will also be one of the speakers.

Many other speakers and officers from Camp Taylor are in the party, including one Hopkinsville boy, Lieut. Jack Stites.

The visitors will be met at the depot by members of the executive committee of both ladies and men in charge of the local Liberty Loan drive and the Boy Scouts. Twenty-five or thirty automobiles are needed to take the visitors for a little drive about the city and owners of machines are requested to loan them for this occasion and to have them at the depot to meet the train, and preferably with the owner of the car along. All owners of cars who will contribute their car are asked to notify Mrs. Ed Wreathers.

After the drive about the city the visitors will be lunched at the Elks club where a luncheon will be served by a committee of ladies headed by Mrs. W. D. Cooper. This luncheon is for the visitors and the members of both the ladies and men's executive committees.

The meetings at the tabernacle will be at 2 o'clock in the afternoon and 7:30 in the evening. These meetings are free to everybody. While the meetings are directly in the interest of the Liberty Loan campaign, no bonds will be sold at this time. The actual selling will be left to the drive to be made for that purpose later in the month. This is to inform the people and get them aroused on the subject.

Another most interesting feature of the meetings will be the showing of bombs, some of them exploded, penants that have actually flown in battle, and various sorts of arms and equipment. These will not only be exhibited but their uses, and often their deadly nature, will be explained by the men who have personal knowledge of them.

PREPARING FOR THE DRIVE

CHRISTIAN COUNTY'S QUOTA FOR THIRD LIBERTY LOAN BONDS IS $247,700.

All is now set for the great Third Liberty Loan drive for $3,000,000, 000 with its over-subscriptions.

Every county in every state in the Union, and every town and city in every county, is listed at headquarters of the Liberty Loan Organization at St. Louis, and at the Treasury Department at Washington.

Each town, city and county has had the quota of bonds it must take allotted to it, and each will be expected and must take the bonds assigned.

The financiers everywhere expected the issue to be much larger than the $3,000,000,000 required. Plans were perfected for a sale largely in excess of this. Now with the organization that have been effected the quota should be subscribed in a very brief campaign.

Many counties and towns have already pledged, and with a little work the over-subscriptions will reach sums that will show the world that the patriotism of the people has been aroused to a high pitch; will show our allies across the water that the United States may be depended on to do its part, and will demonstrate to the knier and all Germany that every man in this Nation and every dollar of America's wealth will be enlisted in the war that to sweep Prussianism from the face of earth.

For the Third Liberty Loan Christian county's quota has been fixed at $247,700. While in the Second Liberty Loan it had $103,500 for its minimum; the target was $504,000 the actual subscription totaled $384,100, and was taken by 1237 subscribers.

(By International News Service.) Boston, April 3.—More than thirty per cent of the total pupil population of New England, or 374,179 school children, are to be enrolled in the Junior Red Cross. The Boston diocese parochial schools led with over sixty-six per cent.

STIRRED TO GREAT ACTION

Are Women of Hopkinsville Stirred To Great Action By Lecture of Mrs. Harold R. Peat.

BIG CROWD PRESENT

Lectures At Liberty Loan Headquarters Under Auspices of Red Cross.

The Liberty Loan headquarters was crowded yesterday afternoon at 4:30 to overflowing by a large crowd of women and some men to hear Mrs. Harold R. Peat for nearly an hour tell of the war conditions in England, France and Belgium, and the work of the Red Cross and its part in the war.

Mrs. Peat spoke on the spirit of the Red Cross and told how thousands of school and college girls and others untrained enlisted under the banner of the Red Cross, hinking to nurse a wounded or sick soldier consisted of smoothing his brow and slinging him to sleep. But instead they were put to washing dressings, scrubbing floors, etc.

Women in England are willing workers in factories, mills, freight rooms, on street cars, and even in the fields. Women are taught in freight schools to handle freight. Machinery of woman's size is now made and used in factories. Women endure because of the atrocities of the Hunns committed upon their men, women, and children. She says the women will endure till 1930 if the war lasts that long.

Mrs. Peat told of the Zeppelin raids she witnessed in London, and says that these raids do not frighten anyone, but instead arouse great anyone, but instead arouse great to greater efforts.

Here Mrs. Peat told of the mental attitude of the British and how slow they are to put their trust in anybody but now they have tested and tried the good United States and have put their trust in Uncle Sam.

When the Germans began the use of gas on the allied soldiers, England saw the need of respirators. It was explained how the newspapers used a sketch of how these were made and as if by magic 3,000,000 respirators were delivered to the army officials by the good women of England.

The British women have learned concentration of effort; conservation of food, money, and children; and have learned courage. They have forgotten the sorrow of giving up their boys and every day at noon send up to God the Father Almighty one earnest, fervent, and united prayer for the boys at the front. She says the women of England pray and pray every day.

The boy that goes to the front will not come back, says Mrs. Peat. That is he will not come back as a boy but will come back a man.

Those who failed to hear Mrs. Peat missed a rare treat, especially at this auspicious time. Mrs. Peat is the wife of "Private" Peat who lectured Saturday night at the Tabernacle. She is of Irish birth and has dark hair, blue eyes and rosy cheeks. She is quite pretty and a fluent and exceedingly pleasant talker.

SPEEDING UP

(By International News Service.)

Washington, April 3.—Legislation fixing the basis of the quotas for the next draft will be rushed through the House under debate limited to three hours. A hard fight is anticipated.

COUNTRY'S SUPPORT

Must Be Given the Allies in Conquering the Huns For All Time.

(By International News Service.)

Washington, April 3.—The indications are that the President's plan for speeding up the movement of troops over seas, rapidly being put into effect, were plainly evident about the War Department. While no official confirmation of the report that 1,500,000 men were to be called under the second draft instead of 800,000 as originally announced, was obtainable, it was admitted that some plan of largely increasing the second quota in all probability would be decided upon following the return of Secretary Baker. A member of the General Staff said 1,500,000 or more could be raised with ease.

WILSON ON PEACE TALK

(By International News Service.)

Washington, April 3.—President Wilson's reply to a question on Saturday at Baltimore the half and half threat with which foreign minister Czernin of Austria, explained the sudden ending of his recent peace protestations. He will be warned that any peace overtures from the central empires at this time should be regarded as unworthy of consideration, unless it is decided to entirely ignore the incident.

Washington, April 3.—Views of Senators expressed today upon the assertion of Count Czernin of Austria, that peace recently was near between Austria and entente, were widely divergent. Most of the Senators regard the present Austrian peace talk as a fore runner of another Austro-German peace propaganda campaign. Premier Clemenceau, of France, declared Czernin "lied" when he said peace had been offered France.

WILSON ON PEACE TALK

Washington, April 3.—President Wilson is expected to answer on Saturday at Baltimore the half and half threat with which foreign minister Czernin, of Austria, explained the sudden ending of his recent peace protestations. He will be warned that any peace overtures from the central empires at this time should be regarded as unworthy of consideration, unless it is decided to entirely ignore the incident.

Washington, April 3.—Views of Senators expressed today upon the assertion of Count Czernin of Austria, that peace recently was near between Austria and entente, were widely divergent. Most of the Senators regard the present Austrian peace talk as a fore runner of another Austro-German peace propaganda campaign. Premier Clemenceau, of France, declared Czernin "lied" when he said peace had been offered France.

Maurice Says The Battle With Germany "Has Only Begun."

ON THE BATTLE FRONT

No Lack of Confidence Felt That Success Will Come Soon.

(By International News Service.)

London, April 3.—Up to a late hour tonight the "quiet before the storm" had not been reported as broken by any new important action on the Picardy battle field. The fourteenth day of the great struggle has been marked, however, by violent local engagements from all but one of which allies emerged complete victors.

General Maurice, chief director of military operations at the war office, today declared the "battle only begun." The German losses have been double those of the allies and that the great teuton drive on Italy may be anticipated shortly.

PROHIBITION WINS AGAIN

MASSACHUSETTS FALLS INTO LINE AND RATIFIES NATIONAL AMENDMENT.

On Tuesday Massachusetts fell into line with ten other states and ratified the national prohibition amendment. The Senate on a roll call voted 27 ayes and 12 nays. Previously the House of Representatives had indorsed the amendment by a vote of 145 to 91.

By this action Massachusetts becomes the first of the northeastern states to ratify the amendment and the eleventh in the nation. Before adopting the amendment Tuesday the Massachusetts Senate rejected a proposed for a state-wide referendum vote on the proposition.

ONE OF THE MEN ADVERTISED AS A LOCAL SLACKER IS A TRAVELING PRINTER.

Raymond C. Mott, one of the men registered from this county, who has not been located is a printer who worked in this office in June and July 1917. He claimed that his home address was Des Moines, Ia., and had papers showing that he was a member of the order of Macabees in that city. He left here for Chicago and later asked for a letter of recommendation at a small town in Illinois. He is now advertised as a deserter and the government is on the lookout for him. Mott was about 28 years old and claimed to be a widower with two children. Later a report came that he was married, but living apart from his wife. He has a brother in Des Moines, Ia. Mott has probably never received any notices sent to him.

A Nation-wide organization of merchants is being made to promote sales of war-savings securities in dry goods and department stores.

The allied armies, co-ordinated under Gen. Foch, are determined to hurl the enemy back and force a military victory before Amiens. The battle on the battlefield now foreshadows the great storm that is to come. The United States has declared that it will give its full strength to the endeavor and thousands of American soldiers now are marching to the front eager to get at the Huns.

Secretary of War Baker on Tuesday visited the Italian front. Accompanied by Ambassador Piave, he called upon Gen. Diaz at headquarters, and later saw the Duke of Aosta, brother of King Victor Emmanuel. Mr. Baker visited Venice and saw the destruction wrought in the Adriatic city. He left for Rome, where he will call upon the King, after which he will return to the United States.

Persons who failed to make income or excess profits tax returns by April 1 are to be given one more chance and will be prosecuted yet. "Collectors have been directed," Revenue Commissioner Cooper announced, "to permit delinquent taxpayers to submit with late returns, if filed immediately, statements showing cause of delinquency. These statements will be given full consideration in the determination of penalties and amount of taxes to be assessed."

The penalty for late returns is a fine of between $20 and $1,000, the amount to be determined by the Revenue Commissioners. In practice, however, penalties ordinarily have been omitted. About 7,000,000 income returns are believed to have been filed with revenue collectors. The number was so great that officials in collectors' offices could not begin to tabulate them or estimate the income reported.

"A SPLENDID TONIC"

Says Hixson Lady Who, On Doctor's Advice, Took Cardui And Is Now Well.

Hixson, Tenn.—"About 10 years ago I was..." says Mrs. J. B. Gadd, of this place. "I suffered with a pain in my left side, could not sleep at night with this pain, always in the left side..."

My doctor told me to use Cardui. I took one bottle, which helped me and after my baby came, I was stronger and better, but the pain was still there. I at first let it go, but began to get weak and in a run-down condition, so I decided to try some more Cardui, which I did.

This last Cardui which I took made me much better, in fact, cured me. It has been a number of years, still I have no return of this trouble. I feel it was Cardui that cured me, and I recommend it as a splendid female tonic."

Don't allow yourself to become weak and run-down from womanly troubles. Take Cardui. It should surely help you, as it has so many thousands of other women in the past 40 years. Headache, backache, indigestion, nervousness, sleeplessness, tired-out feeling, are all signs of womanly trouble. Other women get relief by taking Cardui. Why not you? All druggists.

"Over the Top"

By An American Soldier Who Went

ARTHUR GUY EMPEY

Machine Gunner Serving in France

(Copyright, 1917, by Arthur Guy Empey)

One very nice-looking, overcast day. A young thing, stopped at my bed and asked, "What wounded you in the face?"

In a polite but bored tone I answered, "A rifle bullet."

With a look of disdain she passed to the next bed, first ejaculating, "Oh! Only a bullet? I thought it was a shell."

Why she should think a shell wound was more of a distinction beats me. I don't see a whole lot of difference myself.

The American Women's War hospital was a heaven for wounded men. They were allowed every privilege possible consistent with the rules and military discipline. The only fault was that the men's passes were restricted. To get a pass required an act of parliament. Tommy tried many tricks to get out, but the commandant, an old Irish war officer, was wise to them all, and it took a new and clever ruse to make him affix his signature to the coveted slip of paper.

An even as it would get dark many a patient climbed over the wall and went "on his own," regardless of money signs staring him in the face. "Out of bonds for patients!" Generally the nurses were looking the other way when one of these night raids started. I hope this information will get none of them into trouble, but I cannot resist the temptation to let the commandant know that occasionally we put it over on him.

One afternoon I received a note, through our underground channel, from my female visitor, asking me to attend a party at her house that night. I answered that she could expect me and to meet me at a certain place on the road well known by all patients, and some visitors, as "over the wall."

I told her I would be on hand at seven-thirty.

About seven-fifteen I sneaked my overcoat and cap out of the ward and hid it in the bushes. Then I told the nurse, a particular friend of mine, that I was going for a walk in the rose garden. She winked and I knew that everything was all right on her end.

Going out of the ward, I slipped into the bushes and made for the wall. It was dark on pitch and I was groping through the underbrush, when suddenly I stepped into space and felt myself rushing downward, a horrible bump, and blackness. When I came to my wounded shoulder was hurting horribly. I was lying against a circular wall of bricks, dripping with moisture, and far away I could hear the trickling of water. I had in the darkness fallen into an old disused well. But why wasn't I wet? According to all rules I should have been drowned. Perhaps I was and didn't know it.

As the shock of my sudden stop gradually wore off it came to me that I was lying on a ledge and that the least movement on my part would precipitate me to the bottom of the well.

I struck a match. In its faint glare I saw that I was lying in a circular hole about twelve feet deep—the well had been filled in! The dripping I had heard came from a water pipe over on my right.

With my wounded shoulder it was impossible to climb up the pipe. I could not yell for help, because the rescuer would want to know how the accident happened, and I would be haled before the commandant on charges. I just had to grin and bear it, with the tortuous hope that one of the returning night raiders would pass and I could give him our usual signal of "ease-a-s-e," which would bring him to the rescue.

Every half-hour I could hear the clock in the village strike, each stroke bringing forth a muffled volley of curses on the man who had dug the well.

After two hours I heard two men

talking in low voices. I recognized Corporal Cook, an ardent "night raider." He heard my "ease-a-s-e" and came to the edge of the hole. I explained my predicament and amid a lot of impatient remarks, which at the time I did not resent, I was soon fished out.

Taking off our boots, we sneaked into the ward. I was sitting on my bed in the dark, just starting to undress, when the man next to me, "Ginger" Phillips, whispered, "Op it, Tank, 'ere comes the matron."

I immediately got under the covers and feigned sleep. The matron stood talking in low tones to the night nurse and I fell asleep.

When I awoke in the morning the night sister, an American, was bending over me. An awful sight met my eyes. The coverlet on the bed and the sheets were a mass of mud and green slime. She was a good sport all right, and hustled to get clean clothes and sheets so that no one would get wise, but "on her own" she gave me a good tongue lashing but did not report me. One of the Canadians in the ward described her as being "a Jake of a good fellow."

Next visiting day I had an awful time explaining to my visitor why I had not met her at the appointed time and place.

And for a week every time I passed a patient he would call, "Well, well, here's the Yank. Hope you are feeling well, old top."

The surgeon in our ward was an American, a Harvard unit man, named Frost. He was loved by all. If a Tommy was to be cut up he had no objection to undergoing the operation if "Jack Frost" was to wield the knife. Their confidence in him was pathetic. He was the best spot I have ever met.

One Saturday morning the commandant and some "high up" officers were inspecting the ward, when one of the patients who had been wounded in the head by a bit of shrapnel, fell on the floor in a fit. They brought him round, and then looked for the ward orderly to carry the patient back to his bed at the other end of the ward. The orderly was nowhere to be found—like our policeman, they never are when needed. The officers were at a loss how to get Palmer into his bed. Doctor Frost was forgetting around in a nervous manner, when suddenly with a muffled "d—n—" and a few other qualifying adjectives, he stooped down and took the man in his arms like a baby—he was no feather, either—and staggered down the ward with him, put him in bed and undressed him. A low murmur of approval came from the patients. Doctor Frost got very red, and as soon as he had finished undressing Palmer, hurriedly left the ward.

The wound in my face and almost healed until I was a horrible-looking sight—the left cheek twisted into a knot, the eye pulled down, and my mouth padding in a north by north-west direction. I was very downhearted and could imagine myself during the rest of my life being shunned by all on account of the repulsive scar. Doctor Frost arranged for me to go to the Cambridge Military hospital at Aldershot for a special operation to try and make the scar presentable.

I arrived at the hospital and got an awful shock. The food was poor and the discipline abominably strict. No patient was allowed to sit on his bed, and smoking was permitted only at certain designated hours. The face specialist did nothing for me except to look at the wound. I made application for a transfer back to England, offering to pay my transportation. This offer was accepted, and after two weeks' absence, once again I arrived in Munsey ward, all hope gone.

Mayor Frank A. Hagarty, Repub-

election by Richard J. Kinsella, Dem-

over Henry F. Smith, Republican, by 3,380.

The allied armies, co-ordinated under Gen. Foch, are determined to hurl the enemy back and force a military victory before Amiens. The bull on the battlefield now foreshadows the great storm that is to come.
The United States has declared that it will give its full strength to the endeavor and thousands of American soldiers now are marching to the front eager to get at the Hun.

Secretary of War Baker on Tuesday visited the Italian front. Accompanied by Ambassador Page, he called upon Gen. Diaz at headquar-

Mr. Baker visited Venice and saw

Persons who failed to make in-

"Collectors have been directed," Revenue Commissioner Roger announced, "to permit delinquent taxpayers to submit with late returns,
if filed immediately, statements showing causes of delinquency. These statements will be given full consideration in the determination of penalties and amount of taxes to be assessed."

The penalty for late returns is a fine of between $20 and $1,000, the amount to be determined by the Revenue Commissioners. In practice, however, penalties ordinarily have been omitted. About 7,000,000 income returns are believed to have been filed with revenue collectors.
The number was so great that officials in collectors' offices could not begin to tabulate them or estimate the income reported.

"A SPLENDID TONIC"

Says Hixson Lady Who, On Doctor's Advice, Took Cardui
And Is Now Well.

Hixson, Tenn.—"About 10 years ago I was..." says Mrs. J. H. Gadd, of this place. "I suffered with a pain in my left side, could not sleep at night with this pain, always in the left side..."

My doctor told me to use Cardui. I took one bottle, which helped me and after my baby came, I was stronger and better, but the pain was still there.

I at first let it go, but began to get weak and in a run-down condition,
so I decided to try some more Cardui,
which I did.

This last Cardui which I took made me much better, in fact, cured me. It has been a number of years, still I have no return of this trouble.

I feel it was Cardui that cured me,
and I recommend it as a splendid female tonic.

Don't allow yourself to become weak and run-down from womanly troubles. Take Cardui. It should surely help you, as it has so many thousands of other women in the past 40 years. Headache, backache, sideache, fretting, are all signs of womanly trouble. Other women get relief by taking Cardui. Why not you? All druggists.

"Over the Top"

By An American Soldier
Who Went

ARTHUR GUY EMPEY
Machine Gunner Serving in France

(Copyright, 1917, by Arthur Guy Empey)
One very nice-looking, overenthusi-astic young thing, stopped at my bed and asked, "What wounded you in the face?"

In a polite but bored tone I answered, "A rifle bullet."

With a look of disdain she passed to the next bed, first ejaculating, "Oh!
Only a bullet? I thought it was a shell." Why she should think a shell wound was more of a distinction beats
me. I don't see a whole lot of difference myself.

The American Women's War hospital was a heaven for wounded men.
They were allowed every privilege possible conducive with the rules and military discipline. The only fault was that the men's passes were restricted.

To get a pass required an act of parliament. Tommy tried many tricks to get out, but the commandant, an old beer war officer, was wise to them all,
and it took a new and clever ruse to make him affix his signature to the coveted slip of paper.

As soon as it would get dark many a patient climbed over the wall and went
"on his own," regardless of many signs
standing him in the face, "Out of bounds for patients." Generally the nurses were looking the other way when one of these night raids started. I hope this information will get none of them into trouble, but I cannot resist the temptation to let the commandant know that occasionally we put it over on him.

One afternoon I received a note,
through our underground channel, from my female visitor, asking me to attend a party at her house that night. I answered that she could expect me and to meet me at a certain place on the road well known by all patients, and some visitors, as "over the wall." I told her I would be on hand at seven-thirty.

About seven-fifteen I sneaked my overcoat and cap out of the ward and hid it in the bushes. Then I told the nurse, a particular friend of mine, that I was going for a walk in the rose garden. She winked and I knew that everything was all right on her end.

Going out of the ward, I slipped into the bushes and made for the wall. It was dark as pitch and I was groping through the underbrush, when suddenly I stepped into space and felt myself
rushing downward, a horrible bump, and blackness. When I came to my wounded shoulder was hurting horribly. I was lying against a circular wall of bricks, dripping with moisture,
and far away I could hear the trickling
of water. I had in the darkness fallen into an old disused well. But why worry? I was dead. According to all rules
I should have been drowned. Perhaps
I was and didn't know it.

As the shock of my sudden stop gradually wore off it came to me that I was lying on a ledge and that the least movement on my part would precipitate me to the bottom of the well.
I struck a match. In its faint glare
I saw that I was lying in a circular hole about twelve feet deep—the well had been filled in! The dripping I had heard came from a water pipe over on my right.

With my wounded shoulder it was impossible to shanty up the pipe. I could not yell for help, because the rescuer would want to know how the accident happened, and I would be hailed before the commandant on charges. I just had to grin and bear it, with the forlorn hope that one of the returning night raiders would pass and I could give him our usual signal of "alas-a-s-a," which would bring him to the rescue.

Every half-hour I could hear the clock in the village strike, each stroke bringing forth a muffled valley of curses on the man who had dug the well.

After two hours I heard two men

talking in low voices. I recognized Corporal Cook, an ardent "right rail-er." He heard my "alas-a-s-a" and came to the edge of the hole. I explained my predicament and amid a lot of impertinent remarks, which at the time I did not resent, I was soon fished out.

Taking off our boots, we sneaked into the ward. I was sitting on my bed in the dark, just starting to undress,
when the man next to me, "Tigger" Phillips, whispered, "Op it, Yank, 'ere comes the matron."

I immediately got under the covers and feigned sleep. The matron stood talking in low tones to the night nurse
and I fell asleep.

When I awoke in the morning the night sister, an American, was bending over me. An awful sight met my eyes.
The coverlet on the bed and the sheets
were a mass of mud and green slime.
She was a good sport all right, and hustled to get clean clothes and sheets
so that no one would get wise, but "on her own" she gave me a good tonguelashing but did not report me. One of the Canadians in the ward described her as being "a Jake of a good fellow."

Next visiting day I had an awful time explaining to my visitor why I had not met her at the appointed time and place.

And for a week every time I passed
a patient he would call, "Well, well, here's the Yank. Hope you are feeling well, old top."

The surgeon in our ward was an American, a Harvard unit man, named Frost. We nicknamed him "Jack Frost." He was loved by all. If a Tommy was to be cut up he had no objection to undergoing the operation if
"Jack Frost" was to wield the knife.
Their confidence in him was pathetic.
He was the best sport I have ever met.

One Saturday morning the commandant and some "high up" officers were inspecting the ward, when one of the patients who had been wounded in the head by a bit of shrapnel, fell on the floor in a fit. They brought him round, and then looked for the ward orderly
to carry the patient back to his bed at the other end of the ward. The orderly was nowhere to be found—like our policeman, they never are when needed. The officers were at a loss how to get Palmer into his bed. Doctor Frost was fidgeting around in a nervous manner, when suddenly with a muffled "d—n" and a few other qualifying adjectives, he stooped down and took the man in his arms like a baby—he was no feather, either—and staggered down the ward with him, put him in bed and undressed him. A low murmur of approval came from the patients. Doctor Frost got very red, and as soon as he had finished undressing
Palmer, hurriedly left the ward.

The wound in my face and almost blind and I was a horrible-looking sight—the left cheek, twisted into a knot, the eye pined down, and my mouth pointing in a north by northwest direction. I was very downhearted and could imagine myself during the rest of my life being shunned by all on account of the repulsive scar.

Doctor Frost arranged for me to go to the Cambridge Military hospital at Aldershot for a special operation to try and make the scar presentable.

I arrived at the hospital and got an awful shock. The food was poor and the discipline abominably strict. No patient was allowed to sit on his bed,
and smoking was permitted only at certain designated hours. The face specialist did nothing for me except to look at the wound. I made application for a transfer back to Falmouth, offering to pay my transportation.
This offer was accepted, and after two weeks' absence, once again I arrived in Munsey ward, all hope gone.

The next day after my return Doctor Frost stopped at my bed and said:

"Well, Empey, if you want me to try and see what I can do with that scar
I'll do it, but you are taking an awful chance."

I answered: "Well, doctor, Steve Brodie took a chance; he falls from
New York and so do I."

Two days after the undertaker squad carried me to the operating room or "pictures," as we called them
because of the funny films we see under ether, and the operation was performed. It was a wonderful piece of surgery and a marvelous success.

From now on that doctor can have my shirt.

More than once some poor soldier
has been brought into the ward in a dying condition, resulting from loss of blood and exhaustion caused by his long journey from the trenches. After an examination the doctor announces that the only thing that will save him is a transfusion of blood. Where is the blood to come from? He does not have to wait long for an answer—several Tommies immediately volunteer their blood for their mate. Three or four are accepted; a blood test is made, and next day the transfusion takes place and there is another pale face in the ward.

Whenever bone is needed for some special operation, there are always men willing to give some—a leg if necessary to save some mangled mate from being crippled for life. More than one man will go through life with another man's blood running through his veins, or a piece of his rib or his shinbone in his own anatomy. Sometimes he never even knows the name of his benefactor.

The spirit of sacrifice is wonderful.
For all the suffering caused this war is a blessing to England—it has made new men of her sons; has welded all classes into one glorious whole.

And I can't help saying that the doctors, sisters, and nurses in the English hospitals, are angels on earth. I love them all and can never repay the care and kindness shown to me. For the rest of my life the Red Cross will be to me the symbol of Faith, Hope and Charity.

After four months in the hospital, I went before an examining board and was discharged from the service of his Britannic majesty as "physically unfit for further war service."

After my discharge I engaged passage on the American liner New York, and after a stormy trip across the Atlantic one momentous day, in the haze
of early dawn, I saw the status of liberty looming over the port rail, and I wondered if ever again I would go
"over the top with the best of luck and give them hell."

And even then, though it may seem strange, I was really sorry not to be back in the trenches with my mates.
War is not a pink tea, but in a worthwhile cause like ours, mud, rats, coolies, shells, wounds, or death itself, are far outweighed by the deep sense of satisfaction felt by the man who does his bit.

There is one thing which my experience taught me that might help the boy who may have to go. It is this—anticipation is far worse than realization. In civil life a man stands in awe of the man above him, wonders how he could ever fill his job. When the time comes he rises to the occasion, is up end at it, and is surprised to find how much more easily than he anticipated he fills his responsibilities. It is really so "out there."

He has nerve for the hardships; the interest of the work grips him; he finds relief in the fun and comradeship of the trenches and wins that best sort of happiness that comes with duty well done.

WAR COSTS U. S. BILLION DOLLARS EVERY 30 DAYS

THE INCONCEIVABLE SUM OF $33,000,000,000 LASTS ONLY TWO YEARS.

GUARANTEE WORLD FREEDOM

Third Liberty Loan, When Carried to Successful Issue, Will Do Much to Win War Quickly.

The war for world freedom is costing the United States one billion dollars a month, or more than $36,000,000 a day. Appropriations already made and bills now pending in Congress make it certain that the first two years of the war will cost America thirty-three billion dollars. These figures are conservative. Indications are the expense will be many millions more daily.

Few persons have grasped the meaning of this stupendous sum. What does this huge sum mean to the people of the United States? Here are some of the things it means:

That an obligation of $330 has been piled up against every one of the 100,000,000 men, women and children in the United States. If it were necessary to pay off the present war debt at once, the head of a family of four would have to pay $1,320, more available cash than the average family of that size has.

Freedom comes high. Every 24 hours Uncle Sam must spend and is spending more than $36,000,000 at 25 cents a day for every man, woman and child in the nation. The expenses of the government are 16 times as much under war conditions as in peace times. Not until 1910 did the expenditures of the United States reach a billion dollars in a year. This year, the first in the war, Congress appropriated $18,802,027,501. In 1918, the year of the Spanish-American war, the total appropriations were less than half a billion dollars—$465,002,044, or about one thirty-sixth of the cost of the first year in the present war.

In addition to voting more than $18,000,000,000 cash for the first year of the war, Congress authorized the government to enter into additional contracts which aggregate $3,511,000,000, to be paid for at later dates as the work progresses.

Where millions of dollars formerly created interest in Congress, billions of dollars scarcely arouse a moment's attention, because everybody at Washington realizes that the best way to win the war in the shortest time is to throw the whole resources of the nation into the struggle and support the brave men who are "over there."

The war machinery for a year will cost in dollars and cents an amount that staggers the imagination. Here are some of the estimates submitted to Congress by the military branches: Army, $6,610,232,209; fortifications, $3,332,446,122; navy, $1,329,800,000; sundry civil, $1,160,242,998. The navy has just asked for an additional appropriation of $300,000,000 to speed up and increase the building of warships necessary to combat the submarine menace.

As people should realize that the vast sums appropriated to conduct the war are absolutely necessary to win the battle against the ruthless Prussian. Unless America spends now she will be enslaved later. Unless the people support the government to the limit Uncle Sam will be forced to derive the money by taxation.

Uncle Sam hopes and believes the people will voluntarily lend him the money necessary to conduct the war. The Third Liberty Loan campaign, which will be launched April 6, should have the support of every man, woman and child in the nation. Invest in Liberty bonds and make the victory not only sure but quick.

HEAR McADOO'S VOICE

Phonographic Record of His Talk Will Be Available at Mail Count.

The real voice of Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo may be heard in your own home, proclaiming liberty, patriotism and the American's duty in the present crisis.

The Third Liberty Loan forms the basis for Secretary McAdoo's talk, made for phonographic reproduction. The Columbia Graphophone Co. has made immense numbers of this address and they will be sold to dealers for 40 cents, and the retail dealers will sell them for 50 cents.

Thus every talking machine owner may have Secretary McAdoo visit his own home and help spread the doctrine of liberty.

Illinois Germans Oppose Loan. An Illinois banker, chairman of one of the county organizations, in a letter to the sales division, announces his organization complete. He adds, however, that "there will be some strong opposition to the loan by some of our Germans, as they are being swayed up by someone telling them that the government would force them to put up with half of their money in bonds." His letter contains many Germans.

PARTIAL PAYMENT PLAN FOR LIBERTY LOAN IS POPULAR

WAGE EARNERS MAY OBTAIN BONDS AND PAY IN WEEKLY INSTALLMENTS.

THE BANKS AGREE ON FORM

City Workers May Pay Weekly, While in Rural Communities Systems Adapted to Needs Are Being Developed.

The government "partial payment" plan is being adopted by many of the cities and towns throughout the Eighth Federal Reserve District for handling the Third Liberty Loan, which starts April 6. Committees have been appointed in several cities to work out details in connection with the plan. It is thought that no form of subscriptions to be used in the sale of the bonds will reach anything like the aggregate number of subscribers who will take advantage of this method of purchasing.

In St. Louis a committee of bankers has been active shaping arrangements so that purchasers of these bonds will have the privilege of buying them on weekly installments.

F. O. Watts, president Third National Bank of St. Louis and chairman of the Metropolitan Committee of the Liberty Loan Organization for the Eighth Federal Reserve District, is highly enthusiastic over the plan.

During the previous loans, Mr. Watts said, there were approximately 25,000 subscriptions in St. Louis which were taken on a weekly installment plan, but in his opinion that city ought to have 135,000 subscribers to the weekly payment plan. That is the goal set by the present committee for the Third Liberty Loan bond issue.

Of the 47 banks in St. Louis, 46 have signed up to co-operate in pushing the weekly payment subscriptions, and a uniform contract to govern such subscriptions, approved by the St. Louis Clearing House Association, as well as the banks themselves, has been adopted.

Form Is Adopted.

The form of contract is given below: The owner of this "Liberty Loan" pass book has agreed to purchase from the bank or trust company $400.00 per value of the United States Government Liberty Loan Gold Bonds, and here by agrees to pay for same at face value and according to the date of the bonds themselves in installments within 15 months from the date hereof.

Each payment shall be entitled to interest earned at the rate of the said Third Liberty Loan Bonds bear, but no payment shall draw interest prior to the date of which the bonds themselves bear interest and said interest shall be adjusted at the time of conversion of this pass book into bonds.

The purchaser may complete the entire payment in less than one year and may pay any amount at any time, except that a minimum payment of not less than 2 per cent per week must be maintained.

In case an issue of bonds is made bearing a higher rate of interest, and the value of the bonds may be converted, the said bank or trust company may at its option exercise the conversion privilege, in which event such increased rate shall accrue to the pass book owner.

If the purchaser shall become delinquent in making regular payments, the said bank or trust company reserves the right to return such payments plus or minus the amount representing the difference between the market value and the face value of the bonds. This pass book shall not be negotiable, and must be presented when payments are made.

By the acceptance of this pass book the owner thereof accepts and assents to these terms and conditions.

The pass books and deposit tickets for the 46 St. Louis banks have been ordered and will be distributed to the participating banks sometime next week. The Publicity Committee is co-operating with the Publicity Committee of the Central Organization, and it has been arranged to cover the field from every angle of advertising.

Special copy for street cars, factory cards, billboards, newspapers, magazines, direct-mail circulars and window cards are being prepared, so that the duty as well as the opportunity of every American citizen will be carefully brought home to the people.

Callaway County Adopts. Not only in the large cities throughout the Eighth Federal Reserve District will the "partial payment" plan be adopted, but in smaller cities and communities as well. In Callaway County, Mo., the Bankers' Association has already appointed a committee to work out a plan suitable for the banks there.

In this busy age many buy their homes, automobiles, planes and talking machines on the installment plan. Uncle Sam says, Why not buy government bonds in this manner? We can whip the Germans with our money, but not with the money in our pockets or bank accounts. It must go into the United States treasury in subscriptions to Liberty Bonds.

To win this war quickly and decisively, it is necessary to enlist the cooperation of people of all classes and occupations, and there can be no better way to do this than by effecting a general participation in the investments by which the government will finance our fighting forces.

Will Sell Farm for Bonds.

A farm in exchange for Liberty bonds is the offer which has been made by G. L. Campbell, a real estate dealer of Hopkinsville, Ky. Further, Campbell states positively he will not take money of the usual kind for the farm—it is Liberty Bonds or nothing.

WAR COSTS U. S. BILLION DOLLARS EVERY 30 DAYS

THE INCONCEIVABLE SUM OF $33,000,000,000 LASTS ONLY TWO YEARS.

GUARANTEE WORLD FREEDOM

Third Liberty Loan, When Carried to Successful Issue, Will Do Much to Win War Quickly.

The war for world freedom is costing the United States one billion dollars a month, or more than $25,000,000 a day. Appropriations already made and bills now pending in Congress make it certain that the first two years of the war will cost America thirty-three billion dollars. These figures are conservative. Indications are the expense will be many millions more daily.

Few persons have grasped the meaning of this stupendous sum. What does this huge sum mean to the people of the United States? Here are some of the things it means:

That an obligation of $330 has been piled up against every one of the 100,000,000 men, women and children in the United States. If it were necessary to pay off the present war debt at once, the head of a family of four would have to pay $1,320, more available cash than the average family of that size has.

Freedom comes high. Every 24 hours Uncle Sam must spend and is spending more than $25,000,000 at 25 cents a day for every man, woman and child in the nation. The expenses of the government are 16 times as much under war conditions as in peace times. Not until 1910 did the expenditures of the United States reach a billion dollars in a year. This year, the first in the war, Congress appropriated $18,802,037,501. In 1898, the year of the Spanish-American war, the total appropriations were less than half a billion dollars—$485,002,044, or about one thirty-sixth of the cost of the first year in the present war.

In addition to voting more than $18,000,000,000 cash for the first year of the war, Congress authorized the government to enter into additional contracts which aggregate $2,511,000,000, to be paid for at later dates as the work progresses.

Where millions of dollars formerly created interest in Congress, billions of dollars scarcely arouse a moment's attention, because everybody at Washington realizes that the best way to win the war in the shortest time is to throw the whole resources of the nation into the struggle and support the brave men who are "over there."

The war machinery for a year will cost in dollars and cents an amount that staggers the imagination. Here are some of the estimates submitted to Congress by the military branches: Army, $6,610,223,209; fortifications, $3,332,445,122; navy, $1,939,800,000; sundry civil, $1,160,242,998. The navy has just asked for an additional appropriation of $300,000,000 to speed up and increase the building of warships necessary to combat the submarine menace.

The people should realize that the vast sums appropriated to conduct the war are absolutely necessary to win the battle against the ruthless Prussian. Unless America spends now she will be enslaved later. Unless the people support the government to the limit Uncle Sam will be forced to derive the money by taxation.

Uncle Sam hopes and believes the people will voluntarily lend him the money necessary to conduct the war. The Third Liberty Loan campaign, which will be launched April 6, should have the support of every man, woman and child in the nation. Invest in Liberty bonds and make the victory not only sure but quick.

HEAR M'ADOO'S VOICE

Phonographic Record of His Talk Will Be Available at Small Cost.

The real voice of Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo may be heard in your own home, proclaiming liberty, patriotism and the American's duty in the present crisis.

The Third Liberty Loan forms the basis for Secretary McAdoo's talk, made for phonographic reproduction. The Columbia Graphophone Co. has made immense numbers of this address and they will be sold to dealers for 40 cents, and the retail dealers will sell them for 60 cents.

Thus every talking machine owner may have Secretary McAdoo visit his own home and help spread the doctrine of liberty.

Illinois Germans Oppose Loan. An Illinois banker, chairman of one of the county organizations, in a letter to the sales division, announces his organization complete. He adds, however, that "there will be some strong opposition to the loan by some of our Germans, as they are being scared up by someone telling them that the government would force them to put up or sell of their money in bonds." His letter contains many Germans.

PARTIAL PAYMENT PLAN FOR LIBERTY LOAN IS POPULAR

WAGE EARNERS MAY OBTAIN BONDS AND PAY IN WEEKLY INSTALLMENTS.

THE BANKS AGREE ON FORM

City Workers May Pay Weekly, While in Rural Communities Systems Adapted to Needs Are Being Developed.

The government "partial payment" plan is being adopted by many of the cities and towns throughout the Eighth Federal Reserve District for handling the Third Liberty Loan, which starts April 6. Committees have been appointed in several cities to work out details in connection with the plan. It is thought that no form of subscriptions to be used in the sale of the bonds will reach anything like the aggregate number of subscribers who will take advantage of this method of purchasing.

In St. Louis a committee of bankers has been active shaping arrangements so that purchasers of these bonds will have the privilege of buying them on weekly installments.

F. O. Watts, president Third National Bank of St. Louis and chairman of the Metropolitan Committee of the Liberty Loan Organization for the Eighth Federal Reserve District, is highly enthusiastic over the plan.

During the previous loans, Mr. Watts said, there were approximately 25,000 subscriptions in St. Louis which were taken on a weekly installment plan, but in his opinion that city ought to have 125,000 subscribers to the weekly payment plan. That is the goal set by the present committee for the Third Liberty Loan bond issue.

Of the 47 banks in St. Louis, 46 have signed up to co-operate in pushing the weekly payment subscriptions, and a uniform contract to govern such subscriptions, approved by the St. Louis Clearing House Association, as well as the banks themselves, has been adopted.

Form Is Adopted.

The form of contract is given below:

The owner of this "Liberty Loan" pass book has agreed to purchase from the _____ dollar value of the United States Government Liberty Loan Gold Bonds, and hereby agrees to pay for same at face value and accrued interest in installments within 18 months from the date hereof.

Each payment shall be entitled to interest earned at the rate of the said Third Liberty Loan Bonds bear, but no payment shall draw interest prior to the date from which the bond payments begin to accrue and said interest shall be adjusted at the time of surrender of this pass book.

The purchaser may complete the entire payment in less than one year and may pay any amount at any time, except that a minimum payment of not less than 5 per cent per week must be maintained.

In case an issue of Bonds is made bearing a higher rate of interest, and into which this issue of Bonds may be converted, the said bond of trust company may at its option exercise the conversion privilege; in which event such increased rate shall accrue to the pass book owner.

If the purchaser shall become delinquent in making regular payments, the said bank or trust company reserves the right to return the pass book plus or minus the amount representing the difference between the market value and the par value of the bonds. This pass book shall not be negotiable, and must be presented when payments are made.

By the acceptance of this pass book the owner hereby accepts and assents to these terms and conditions.

The pass books and deposit tickets for the 46 St. Louis banks have been ordered and will be distributed to the participating banks sometime next week. The Publicity Committee is co-operating with the Publicity Committee of the Central Organization, and it has been arranged to cover the field from every angle of advertising.

Special copy for street cars, factory cars, billboards, newspapers, magazines, direct-mail circulars and window cards are being prepared, so that the duty as well as the opportunity of every American citizen will be carefully brought home to the people.

Callaway County Adopts.

Not only in the large cities throughout the Eighth Federal Reserve District will the "partial payment" plan be adopted, but in smaller cities and communities as well. In Callaway County, Mo., the Bankers' Association has already appointed a committee to work out a plan suitable for the banks there.

In this busy age many buy their homes, automobiles, planes and talking machines on the installment plan. Uncle Sam says, Why not buy government bonds in this manner? To win this war quickly and decisively, it is necessary to enlist the cooperation of people of all classes and occupations, and there can be no better way to do this than by effecting a general participation in the investments by which the government will finance our fighting forces.
